SALARY ADMINISTRATION

A. PURPOSE AND USE

The purpose of the Space Florida, Inc. (SPACE FLORIDA) salary program is to ensure fair, competitive and consistent pay practices that attract, retain and motivate the best qualified employees.

Specifically, the objectives of the Salary Program are:

- To provide a uniform method for determining the relative value of all jobs and for documenting job responsibilities. This will ensure a proper relationship between salaries paid for positions with similar requirements and responsibilities within SPACE FLORIDA. Additionally this objective will provide a basis for comparing job responsibilities and salary levels with the external labor market.
- To compensate each employee based on the value of individual contribution to the success of SPACE FLORIDA and in relation to their assigned job responsibilities.
- To provide opportunities for advancement without regard to Race, color, creed, sex, sexual orientation, age, national origin or ancestry, physical or mental disability, veteran status, marital status, HIV-positive status, as well as any other category protected by federal, state, or local laws. To ensure compliance with all federal and state laws and regulations governing pay practices.
- To provide a salary pay and reward system that encourages and recognizes excellent performance, and improves SPACE FLORIDA'S effectiveness and the quality of service to its customers.

All Space Florida salary guideline information is available to all through the Human Resources Department. Employees will receive personal communications on matters related to their individual compensation.

B. POLICY

The salary policy of SPACE FLORIDA is to establish and maintain wage and salary levels that reflect job responsibilities and individual performance and ensure opportunities to attract, retain, and motivate qualified, competent employees. Exceptions to the policy require the approval of the President and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and will be handled on a case-by-case basis. Changes to this policy can be approved by the SPACE FLORIDA Board of Directors Governance and Compensation Committee (G&C Committee).

C. SALARY PROGRAM ELEMENTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Salary Program Elements

The basic elements of SPACE FLORIDA'S Salary Program consist of:

I. Job Classification:

The methodical, standardized process of defining the duties and responsibilities of each job, grouping jobs of similar value into the same category, level or classification, and establishing written job descriptions

II. Employee Performance Evaluation:

For all employees, goals and objectives should be set to:

- a. Assist the employee to focus efforts on achieving results that are fully aligned with the SPACE FLORIDA business strategy, and
- b. Prepare each employee for increased responsibility and career advancement.

Since SPACE FLORIDA is a “pay-for-performance” employer, evaluation of an employee's current performance enables SPACE FLORIDA to translate performance results in a manner that supports alignment of compensation increase opportunity with the level of responsibility and individual job performance outcomes. The evaluation focuses on each employee's contribution to excellence and is a foundational piece of our total rewards philosophy including base pay, performance pay, benefits and special awards, opportunity, skills improvement, and recognition.

2. Salary Program Responsibilities

The Human Resources Department is responsible for the following functions in the administration of the salary program:

- a. Fair and consistent administration of the compensation program, development and maintenance of relevant documentation, and maintenance of all policies relating to compensation and performance management.
- b. Preparation of recommendations for salary policy modifications and additions for submission to the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and CEO.
- c. Development and implementation of the compensation programs for SPACE FLORIDA.
- a. Communication and collaboration with all departments to ensure that compensation policies are understood and followed.
- e. Research and acquisition of competitive salary data at least every three (3) years.
- f. Job analysis and evaluation for new jobs and jobs submitted for reclassification.
- g. Examination of employee compensation increases to ensure compliance with authorized guidelines. Review and analysis of out-of-policy salary activity, and reporting of variances to the CEO with recommendations as to appropriate action to maintain overall compensation system within policy guidelines.

Department Heads are responsible for supporting the administration of the compensation program as follows:

- a. Maintain a thorough knowledge of salary policies and procedures and apply them to recommendations for salary adjustments.
- b. Keep subordinates informed as to the compensation systems and program elements to support a goal of common understanding of the program across the organization.
- c. Submit complete, accurate, and timely performance evaluation form with each request for a salary adjustment and review all applicable description and evaluation forms as part of the salary review process.
- d. Document justifications for any requests for exceptions to salary policy.
- b. Review job descriptions as needed to ensure that they consistently reflect the current job duties and responsibilities of each position.

Top Management is responsible for the following:

- a. The CFO, Treasurer & Executive Vice President, and the CEO will review the recommendations provided by the Human Resources Department with respect to policy modifications and additions and present their recommendations to the Governance and Compensation Committee.
- b. Review and authorize changes to job evaluations as submitted by the Human Resources Department.
- c. Review the recommendations of the Human Resources Department as to out-of-policy salary activity and determine appropriate actions to be taken to maintain the equity and competitiveness of the overall compensation system, working within the intent of the policy guidelines.

The Governance & Compensation Committee is responsible for the following:

- a. Complete annual performance evaluation of CEO and Treasurer & Executive Vice President including the calculation of recommended performance pay. The evaluation will be in cooperation with the Chair of SPACE FLORIDA Board of Directors.
- b. Recommend contract salary and performance pay actions for CEO to SPACE FLORIDA Board of Directors.
- c. Annually recommend a budget for awards to be granted under SPACE FLORIDA performance pay program, for approval by the SPACE FLORIDA Board of Directors.
- d. Review, evaluate and approve the Compensation and Performance Management Guidelines, including base compensation ranges and reports of job classifications, benchmarking results and recommendations obtained every three (3) years.

Section 2

SALARY RANGES AND PAY GRADES

A. PURPOSE

To provide structure and limits to the amount of variation allowed in base salaries for jobs of similar value to SPACE FLORIDA, while at the same time maintaining compensation opportunity that is competitive within the labor market from which SPACE FLORIDA draws talent.

B. POLICY

At least once year, SPACE FLORIDA will consult compensation trends surveys to determine the pace at which employers in its labor markets have adjusted pay ranges during the prior year and plan to adjust ranges in the coming year. Based on this information, management may make a recommendation to apply a modest percentage adjustment to the entire range structure to remain competitive in their markets. No employees will receive pay adjustments based on the updating of pay ranges unless new ranges have minimum rates that are above an employee's current rate of pay. In that event a special one-time equity adjustment to just over the minimum of the new range will be recommended and implemented for the affected employee(s) only.

Every three (3) years, as many of SPACE FLORIDA'S positions as possible will be compared published survey data providing current market value for the matched roles in SPACE FLORIDA'S labor market. Human Resources and other representatives of top management will review the results of the study and may recommend revision of compensation ranges, as necessary to position the organization to be able to effectively attract, retain and motivate qualified, competent talent.

Ranges will normally be established to reflect projected salary and wage rates in advance of the budgetary cycle for the following year. As with the annual assessment of range movement trends, employees do not receive increases due to adoption of new or modified compensation ranges, but those ranges will be the guidance utilized at the next time an employee's pay is assessed.

C. PROCEDURES

1. This section contains the guidelines for the application of compensation ranges. Each pay grade has a range with a minimum, control point (which is the midpoint of the range), and maximum salary level. The ranges have other distinctions as well such as the following: First Quartile resides at the rate that is equal to the difference between the range maximum and the range minimum (range spread), divided by four and added to the range minimum. (E.g. Range Maximum at $20.00 with Range Minimum at $10.00; Range spread = $$20.00 - $10.00 = $10.00$ / 4 = $2.50 [the value of each quartile] + $10.00 [the Minimum] = the First Quartile $12.50. The Third Quartile is calculated by adding one quartile value, $2.50 to the Control Point/Midpoint of the range [$$15.00 + 2.50 = \17.50])

a. Minimum of Range to 1st Quartile

As a general rule, employees who possess the minimum qualifications for the job should be paid no less than the minimum of the range. The ability to consistently hire below the range minimum may constitute the need for job re-evaluation. Guideline: Normally, employees or candidates within their first two years of experience at this level should be paid a base salary within the first quartile of the pay grade.

b. Control Point or Midpoint

Salaries between the first quartile and the control point or midpoint of the range, or just slightly above the midpoint represent the anticipated compensation level of employees who are identified as fully functional; having consistently performed all of the job duties and requirements at or above a satisfactory level. Guideline: Normally, employees or candidates with between three to five years of directly relevant experience at this level should be paid a base salary in the second quartile of the pay grade under normal economic circumstances.

c. Above Midpoint to 3rd Quartile

To ensure that SPACE FLORIDA can attract and retain experienced professionals in key positions, the compensation ranges are designed to allow for flexibility. In cases where the experience level of the incumbent or candidate justifies base pay above the midpoint, the third quartile may be used for initial salaries and increases. Guideline: Normally employees or candidates with between six to eight years of directly relevant experience at this level should be paid a base salary in the third quartile of the pay grade under normal economic circumstances. In cases where the experience level is greater than eight years, the maximum may be used for candidates with authorization by the CEO and CFO.

d. From the 3rd Quartile to the Maximum of Range

The maximum of the range is the maximum dollar value that the job warrants within SPACE FLORIDA and represents the maximum that SPACE FLORIDA is willing to pay for the job. The maximum should be high enough to motivate employees to perform in an outstanding manner. Employees will not normally progress to the maximum of the range unless they are consistently excellent performers and have many years of experience in the same grade. As well, only the most superior performance should be rewarded with pay rates in the third quartile of the range, and approaching the range maximum.

"Red Circle" Salary Adjustment: Employees may not be paid more than their salary grade maximum. Increases to an employee's salary if they have reached the upper limit of their salary grade, while rare, are possible and will generally be awarded in a lump sum payment and must be fully substantiated by the recommending manager and/or department head, with an explanation of the employee's status, promotion readiness, and a retention plan if the employee cannot or will not be promoted.

2. In order to maintain a competitive salary structure, Human Resources will research trends in salary range movement annually, and specific, in depth market studies by job at least every three years. From this information the Human Resources Department will be responsible for providing recommendations to the CEO regarding adjustments or full revisions to salary ranges.
3. The salary ranges will be adjusted if competitive data warrants realignment due to market indicators. Adjustments to the salary structure will not be passed onto the employees in the form of a general increase; however, the employee's earning potential will increase. Individual salary increases will reflect the employee's performance evaluation results as well as the limitations of the range to which the employee's role is classified.

4. Current salary ranges for each level in the job classification structure are maintained and kept current by the Human Resources Department, and pertinent information will be distributed to department heads.
5. In some cases, an employee's salary may be below the salary range minimum for reasons other than the implementation of new salary ranges. Assuming performance remains at an acceptable level, a manager should recommend that the employee's rate be adjusted to the minimum or above within a 12-month period.
6. In those instances where an employee has a question about job classification or salary, the employee is encouraged to discuss the question with his/her immediate manager. The employee also has the option to schedule a meeting with the next higher level of management. Management has the option to invite Human Resources to the meeting to clarify compensation policy and guidelines.

Section 3

STARTING SALARY FOR NEW EMPLOYEES

A. PURPOSE

To provide guidelines for the beginning salary rate for new employees.

B. POLICY

1. Minimum Starting Salary: New hires meeting the minimum job requirements should be hired within the first quartile of the assigned salary range.
2. Maximum Starting Salary: No starting salary shall exceed the third quartile upper threshold of the salary range for that job without prior approval of the CEO or CFO.

C. PROCEDURES

1. New positions must be approved by the CEO or CFO.
2. When developing a job requisition, the Human Resources Department will indicate the salary range for the job based on positioning the job description within the applicable pay grade and organization level, utilizing the aforementioned job classification methods.
3. The Human Resources Department will verify that a proposed offer is within the appropriate range prior to the offer being extended to the applicant. If the offer is above the range's third quartile threshold, the Human Resources Department will work with the manager and department head to request approval of the offer by the CEO or CFO.
4. The actual level of pay offered to a new employee will be based on the employee's qualifications for the job.
5. Rehired employees will be regarded as new hires for purposes of salary and performance management administration. Employees rehired in the same or similar job will be compensated at the applicable skill level. Any exceptions require approval from the Human Resources Department.

Section 4

MAXIMUM SALARY

A. PURPOSE

To establish limits on the maximum amount SPACE FLORIDA is willing to pay for a particular job.

B. POLICY

Employees may not receive a salary increase that will cause their pay to exceed the maximum of their job's salary range.

C. PROCEDURES

1. Employees may reach the maximum of their salary range after several years of excellent performance in a particular job.
2. If an employee at the top of a range is performing at an outstanding level and is unable to be promoted to a job with a higher salary range for personal or business reason, the Human Resources Department and the CEO will review the particulars of the situation and determine the action, if any, to be taken.

Section 5

PERFORMANCE PLANNING, REVIEW AND REWARD

A. PURPOSE

To motivate performance consistent with company goals and objectives; specifically to attract, retain, and motivate qualified, competent talent, and facilitate a high performance culture.

B. POLICY

Performance based compensation is discretionary and contingent upon the availability of non-appropriated funds. The program represents an opportunity for employees to earn a lump sum bonus reflective of the organization's performance, and individual employee performance and contribution to the organization. The program is a structured component of SPACE FLORIDA'S total rewards compensation philosophy.

The elements that are the basis for reward under the system are the achievement of corporate, departmental, and individual performance measures against pre-established targets or goals. The plan year runs from July 1 to June 30; SPACE FLORIDA'S fiscal year.

C. PROCEDURES

1. Establishing Measures: All employees have three categories of measures of success at SPACE FLORIDA: Corporate, Department and Individual. The SPACE FLORIDA Business Plan provides the roadmap for establishing performance measures. The Business Plan identifies corporate and department goals and objectives. Measures established at the corporate level reflect metrics pertaining to overall SPACE FLORIDA'S success, such as achievement of Department of Economic Opportunity (DEO) contract deliverables, financial viability and client/partner satisfaction. Department goals are aligned with the corporate goals and set by the department heads. Department Heads also establish individual goals, measures, and/or behaviors that align with and support corporate and department goals.
2. Eligibility: All regular and permanent part-time employees on active payroll at the time of the performance compensation declaration by the Board of Directors, and those who retire having worked at least six months of the plan year will be eligible to receive performance compensation awards based on the following criteria:
 - a. Employee must be in good standing without any pending or current disciplinary actions or investigative procedures.
 - b. Employees must have at least a 3.0 (Meets Expectations) rating on their individual year-end performance evaluation to participate in the performance pay for the year.

- c. Top 15% of staff grading over “3” and meeting 100% of corporate and department goals will be placed in an additional exceptional performance pool with a target award to each participant of 6% of base salary. Participation in the exceptional performance pool must be approved by the CEO and CFO
 - d. Employees must be employed a minimum of six (6) months of retirement criteria for award. Full credit will be given for the month if employee is employed by the 15th.
3. Awarding Performance Pay: The determination of the actual award is based on a combination of corporate, department, and individual performance measures.
- a. First year employees and qualifying retirees are awarded performance compensation calculated on a pro-rata basis of the months worked.
 - b. If promotion results in a change in the target award during the year, final award will be based on the current grade level at last day of fiscal year.
4. Target Award Levels: Award levels are defined by the classification to which the employee’s current job is assigned. Current performance award maximum opportunity levels are as follows:

PERFORMANCE PAY OPPORTUNITY LEVELS BY GRADE

NONEXEMPT GRADE	MAXIMUM AWARD OPPORTUNITY % OF BASE PAY
3	5%
4	5%

Section 6

ADJUSTMENTS TO BASE SALARY

A. PURPOSE

To recognize employee growth and development that increase job responsibilities beyond their stated job objectives.

B. POLICY

To reward initiative, leadership and activities that improve SPACE FLORIDA as measured by its tactical plan results and reflected in the individual's achievement against performance measures.

C. PROCEDURES

1. Salary Adjustment: A salary adjustment is the payment of a higher base salary within the same salary range. Sustained individual performance is the only basis for an adjustment; length of service does not, in itself, justify an increase. Employees whose performance is unsatisfactory are not eligible for salary increases.
2. Timing: Employees normally will be considered for an increase at the time of the performance review process.
3. Performance Evaluation's Effect on Salary Increases
 - a. Salary increases will be made on the basis of employee performance.
 - b. Managers are responsible for assessing employee performance relative to:
 - Objectives and specific goals outlined during the performance planning process.
 - Other performance factors rated as part of the evaluation.
 - c. Managers will communicate these assessments to Human Resources.
4. Salary Increases: Annually, salary guidelines and salary target percentages will be developed as a part of SPACE FLORIDA'S normal budgetary cycle. The line item detail of the proposed increases and budgeted salaries will be approved by the CEO. The proposed consolidated annual budget will be approved by the Finance & Compensation Committee.

SPACE FLORIDA recognizes that sometimes there are valid reasons to depart from budget recommendations. Managers who feel that a specific employee's performance is an exception to the guidelines should submit the recommended amount of increase they feel is equitable along with their justification to Human Resources and the CEO for consideration. Human Resources will advise the affected managers of the decision regarding the request. In most cases, however, the salary guidelines will provide ample opportunity for management to reward employees for their performance.

Section 7

SALARY INCREASES FOR PROMOTIONS

A. PURPOSE

To provide guidelines for adjusting an employee's salary because of a promotion.

B. POLICY

When an individual is promoted, the employee may receive a salary increase that is generally based on job classifications and the employee's prior meritorious performance.

C. PROCEDURES

1. For purposes of SPACE FLORIDA'S compensation program, a promotion is defined as reassignment to a job that is classified in a higher organization level or pay grade than the employee's present job.
2. The effective date of promotions and new salaries will not be discussed with the affected employee until after the promotion has been approved by the appropriate manager, department head, and the Human Resources Department and all documentation has been returned to the manager with the CEO's approval/signature to the manager.
3. Newly promoted employee will be paid at least the grade minimum but should normally be paid in the lower half of the range for the new job.
4. Promotional increases generally will be effective at the beginning of the pay period in which the promotion occurs, regardless of the employee's normal review date.
5. After receiving a promotion, the employee will be scheduled for his or her next calendar review for salary consideration based on performance.
6. Those employees below the range minimum for their new position will be placed on a salary plan to bring their salary into the range within 12 months after promotion. However, increases totaling more than 15% within a 12-month period must be approved by the Human Resources Department and the CEO.
7. Conversions from temporary to regular status are not regarded as promotions.

Section 8

TRANSFERS AND DEMOTIONS

A. PURPOSE

To provide guidelines for the proper processing of non-promotional employee reassignments within SPACE FLORIDA

B. POLICY

Employees transferring laterally from one job to another within the same grade generally will not receive an increase. Demoted employees, or those who request reassignment to a lower-level job, may have their compensation reduced to be aligned line with the new position's pay range, at the discretion of management.

C. PROCEDURES

1. The required documentation should be completed by the Human Resources Department and approved by both the former and the new manager as soon as the transfer has been determined and prior to the actual transfer of the employee. The employee is not to be offered of the transfer until all appropriate managers and the CEO have approved the paperwork.
2. A transferred employee's salary increase schedule will not change due to transfer. The former manager will prepare a performance review at the time of transfer and submit it to the Human Resources Department. That data will be used in combination with the performance review provided by the new manager to define the overall evaluation of the employee's performance for the whole of the performance period in which a transfer took place.
3. When an employee is demoted or requests reassignment to a lower-level job, the new salary will be the lower of:
 - Maximum of the new position's salary range,
 - The employee's current pay, or
 - The new manager may offer a lower salary within the new job's salary range at his or her discretion.

In any case, the employee's future increases will be defined by the salary range for the new position and will be based on the employee's performance in the new job.

Section 9

SPECIAL OR OUT-OF-CYCLE COMPENSATION INCREASES

A. PURPOSE

To outline circumstances under which an employee may receive an unscheduled salary increase.

B. POLICY

Under certain circumstances, an employee may receive a special pay increase.

1. Re-evaluation of Existing Job Classifications

In cases where a particular job classification is re-evaluated and found to be at a higher level, individuals in that job classification may receive commensurate pay raises. Normally, such increases will be given when the responsibility is assigned.

2. Adjustment of Salary Ranges/New Salary Ranges

In cases where an overall pay structure adjustment or the development of new salary ranges results in an employee's pay rate falling below the minimum of the appropriate range, the employee will be placed on a salary plan to bring the salary into the range within 12 months after the effective date of the adjustment/range. However, no increase will total more than 15% within a 12-month period. In accordance with these guidelines, SPACE FLORIDA will evaluate adjusting the employee's pay to the range minimum.

C. PROCEDURES

1. All requests for special pay increases will be presented in writing to the Human Resources Department by the employee's immediate manager. The request must include detailed justification for the increase and manager approval.
2. Special increases because of re-evaluation of jobs or adjustments to salary ranges will normally be addressed at the discretion of management.
3. Conversions from temporary is not sufficient to justify a salary adjustment.

Section 10
